Bank of Montreal Loans Up 25 Per Cent Over 1958

LOUIS ANDERSON

More Canadians borrowed more money from the Bank of Montreal in 1959 than ever before, according to the bank's annual statement, released here this week by Louis Anderson, manager of the Irma Branch.

Commenting on the bank's 142nd year of business, he said the unprecedented demand for credit of all kinds came in one of the "lightest" money periods of modern times. In total, B of M loans were more than 25 per cent above the 1958 figure — $1,772 million compared with $1,416 million.

This included a $2.55 per cent boost over 1958 in NHA mortgage loans, from $171 million to $227 million, enabling more people to buy homes of their own.

To cope with Canadians' loan demands, the bank reduced its security holdings by more than a quarter. These are now reported at $686 million, or 38 per cent lower than a year ago.

Strong Liquid Position

As a result, although the B of M maintains a strong liquid position, "quick" assets now stand at $1,578 million, or 51.6 per cent of all liabilities to the public, versus 42.1 per cent at October 31, 1958.

Deposits show a little change at $2,998 million, compared with $3,038 million a year ago. The same is true of total B of M assets, which stand at $3,259 million, against $3,277 million in 1958.

The bank's earnings for all of its 810 offices in Canada and abroad totalled $24,833,660, before the tax rate. Provision for these tax bills, however, took more than 50 per cent of the earnings, or $12,042,600, so that the net profit was $12,191,060, or $1,834,370 more than in 1958.

The 21,000 B of M shareholders received dividends totalling $10,664,730 on the basis of $1.95 per share — or $1,957,870 less than the tax bill.

The year's operations included issue of "rights" to 675,000 new shares of capital stock. When completed, this issue will bring the B of M's paid-up capital to $60,750,000, the largest of any Canadian bank.

Irma United Church 49th Anniversary and Supper Held

The Irma United Church held its 49th anniversary service and supper on Nov. 29th and 30th.

The guest speaker at the Sunday service was the Rev. Jackson Strapp of Wainwright, who gave a stirring message based on 1 Corinthians, chapter 3. He delivered his address to a full church.

On Monday night the W.A. served a delicious chicken supper to about 300 people who did full justice to the good things set before them.

A well planned program followed the supper with the Rev. H. Inglis in the chair.

Mr. Inglis conducted a short devotional period followed by two numbers by the choir, a piano solo by Isabel Inglis, a reading by Mrs. G. Theroux, a vocal solo by R. L. Simmerman and a special motion picture, "On This Rock," depicting the expansion of a new church in the Knob Lake area.

F.U.A. MEETING

Gratton FUA local No. 7 held a meeting in the Legion Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 24. During the business part of the meeting, members decided to ask Mr. Duncan, D.A., to be present at the next meeting planned for December 15, to explain fully what a course in Farm Management under his direction would involve. Delegates for the FUA convention to be held in Edmonton, December 7-11, were also decided upon, and membership receipt books were given out to those willing to obtain membership.

The highlight of the evening was an address by Mr. Henry Young, former president and now a member of the board of the Farmers' Union of Alberta. First he reminded the members of what their farm union was doing for them, such as representation to the federal government regarding deficiency payments on hogs and eggs, restrictions on farm credit, the humane slaughter of livestock and the representation to the Board of Grain Commissioners regarding grain tariffs. (This writer wonders how many local farmers realize they are enjoying the use of tax-free gasoline in their trucks because the FUA made representation to the Alberta government for that privilege and consequent saving of 10c for every 20 miles).

Mr. Young went on to state that farming has changed. Farms are becoming bigger and there are fewer farmers. In fact only 13% of Canada's population are farmers. It is, therefore, essential for the farmers to organize in order to bring their numerous problems to the attention of those who can solve them. Every one else has an increased income concept the farmer. The cost-price-squeeze is certainly a big head-ache. However, the farmer who refuses to organize has no reason to complain. The government won't do anything to help the farmers unless they demand it.

A delicious lunch was served after a short question period following Mr. Young's talk.

A "Thank you" note was sent to the Wainwright Sea Cadets Band and Officers for their fine performance in our Remembrance Day parade and program.

On Nov. 10 the Irma Cadets drove to Wainwright for target practice. This is always enjoyed immensely by the boys. Later, uniforms were given out to all the boys who had not yet received them.

Wedding Bells

CODE — FOULKES

A quiet but pretty wedding took place in the chapel of Robertson United Church, Edmonton, on Friday, Nov. 27th at 5 p.m., when Mildred Louise Hill, Foulkes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hill of Irma, became the bride of Clark Brian Code of Edmonton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Geeson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of turquoise taffeta complimented by a corsage of pink roses and a white feather hat. Her sister, Mine, (Mrs. A. E. Dyck) was her only attendant and was frocked in rose taffeta.

Mr. Reginald Kingsley of Saskatoon was best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper for immediate relatives was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dyck. Later Mr. and Mrs. Code left for a short trip to Calgary and Banff. They will make their home in Edmonton.

Mildred's many friends at Irma wish them every happiness.

Among those attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hill, Mr. John Hill, Mrs. Hugh Tomlinson, Mrs. Knute Gulhaas, Mrs. Cecil Lockhart and Mrs. P. J. Hardy.

Shower Held For Barbara Desjardine

On Saturday evening, Nov. 28, the Irma United Church basement was the scene of a bountiful miscellaneous shower in honor of Barbara Desjardine, a bride of this week.

When Barbara arrived at the church with her friend, Stella Bridgeman, she was escorted to the seat of honor under the canopy and while streamers and wedding bells by Mrs. A. Ronaghan who was mistress of ceremonies. Barbara's mother, her sister Edna and brother Leslie, also the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lingley and Mrs. Jimmy Lingley and Miss Stella Bridgeman, were seated with her.

Mrs. A. D. Glasgow was at the piano and led a lively sing-song. Then the guests wrote out their favorite requests and presented them to the bride-to-be. Beth Milne played a piano solo and encore. Lind Lovig gave two vocal solos. Carol Matthews played 2 piano solos and Mrs. Ronaghan led a lively game.

Then all present sang a song to the tune of "Billy Boy," especially written for Barbara and Bill by Mrs. Anquist.

The guest of honor was then asked to explore the contents of all the pretty packages arranged on the long table before her. She seated with assistance in this pleasant work and many useful and beautiful gifts were brought forth and admired by all.

After Barbara had warmly expressed her thanks, a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Mesdames S. C. Johnson, W. Hubman, C. Smallwood, A. Murray, S. Murray, J. Pond, R. Fischer, J. Christenson, A. Ronaghan, E. Weatherly, A. C. Milne, H. Barber and E. J. Meyers.

Junior Band Variety Concert Proves Good Entertainment

The Irma School Auditorium was well filled on the evening of November 23rd when our Irma Junior Band gave its first public concert. This proved to be a truly great success and provided some of the best entertainment that has come our way for some time. Seemed very hard to believe that Mrs. Hurst had only been working with these young folk for the past seven months.

The variety numbers were of a high calibre too, featuring some of our good old standbys and also some fresh young talent.

Mr. Larry Meier made an admirable chairman for this happy occasion and spoke most warmly of the fine work being done by Mr. and Mrs. G. Hurst as did also Mr. Ole Nissen.

Following are those who took part in the program as well as selections by the band:

Gloria Savard, Sharon Gunn, Dorothy Ballentine, Lynn Milne, Linda Lovig, Trudy Coffin, Anne Jones, Beth Milne, Merna Meier, Gayle and Melba Sampson, Virley, Wallace Dunbar, Sandra Veer, Gary Meier, Gordon Savard.

Stan Veer, 2 unknown actors, Maureen Gunn, Carolyn Inklin, Arlene Clumstad, Mrs. J. C. McLean, Joyce Lovig, Sharon Ostad, Mrs. H. C. Nissen, Mr. and Mrs. Nissen, Jerry Hurst.

In the draw for raffle, first prize, oil painting—Mr. A. C. Charter; second prize, foam rubber dollies—Mr. H. Morse; third prize, foam rubber cushion—Mr. H. C. Nissen.

Among the many spectators who enjoyed this evening's entertainment was a group of Wainwright bandmen who had come by bus to Irma.

We understand that the Junior Band now numbers 48 and that greater interest than ever is now felt among the young folk and more are applying for admission.

This band had long been a favorite dream of Mrs. Hurst's. Isn't it nice to see someone who has the courage and ability to make dreams become reality?

The sum of $83.00 was taken in at the door on the concert night while $103.00 was realized in the raffle. We understand the band's next project is to buy music stands for one and all.

Mrs. Hurst hopes to present a concert about every four months.

AWARDS PRESENTED

During the program an award of $100.00 was made to Miss Car-

But of that day and hour knoweth no man, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. —Matt. 24:36-42.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER

JOHN DIFENBAKER

When drivers on the highways are indifferent to the dangers they meet or create, there can be only one result: death to many. More than 3,000 people were killed on the streets and roads of this nation last year, a needless waste of human life. Each often died chiefly because someone did not do what he knew how to do.

To try to combat indifference in respect to the perils of the highway, on the part of both motorist and pedestrian, the Canadian Highway Safety Conference is once again sponsoring a nation-wide Safe-Driving Week, December 1 to 7 inclusive. It is the responsibility of every citizen to awaken to the seriousness of such a campaign designed to reduce the terrible highway toll in Canada.

—John Diefenbaker, Prime Minister.

WITH THE District Agriculturist

By J. S. Duncan

Sorghum Alum:

Further information on this crop is now available and it appears that as well as yielding very poorly last summer under test, that last summer's growth in is some cases poisonous to livestock. Analysis has shown that at least some of the Sorghum Alum has a very high nitrate content and could be poisonous to livestock. Dr. A. Case of the University of Missouri has stated that any nitrate content over 0.5 percent may cause trouble and at the 1.5 percent level, death is likely to occur. The average of eight samples of Sorghum Alum tested at the University of Alberta this fall has been 2.1 percent nitrate and one sample was 3.8 percent nitrate. Any farmer who has Sorghum Alum for feed should have a sample tested before using it. For a cost of $1.00 a sample sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory, University of Alberta, will be tested and the farmer informed of the results.

Clean Grain Now:

With the prospect of seed grain being scarce next spring, anyone who has grain suitable for seed, should get it cleaned so that he may know how much he would have for sale or have to buy as the case may be. All prospective seed should also be tested for germination just to be on the safe side as tough or damp grain may not germinate well.

Coyote Control:

Whether or not to control coyotes this year may be a difficult decision for anyone with grain still in the field. Coyotes do kill a lot of mice and rabbits which can waste grain. On the other hand, coyotes can kill livestock and poultry. Anyone wanting to control coyotes should get supplies and information from their Pest Control Officer or Field Supervisor.

Check Granaries:

A very close watch should be kept on all granaries for signs of damp grain in them. Heating occurs very quickly and lack of care can result in spoiled grain.

EDITORIAL

SCARCITY OF DENTISTS

Letters have been written about the scarcity of dentists in Alberta since a missionary from Nebraska, claiming to be a "practical dentist" came to Alberta offering free dentistry done by missionary students under his supervision. He claimed he was really doing work that dentists would or could not do and the people were entitled to more services than the "dental monopoly" was giving them. The dental profession countered that his sub-standard dentistry was of no real service to Albertans. He was permitted to carry on only because he didn't charge and therefore, under the law, his students were not practicing dentistry. To begin with he operated at Sexsmith, then moved to Nanton and is now at Coole. The matter has posed a problem for our benevolent social service government, and we look forward for some of the five-man "watch dog" committees to ask a few pertinent questions about the situation at the coming session of the legislature.

CARBON MONOXIDE — THE SILENT KILLER

Carbon monoxide causes more deaths than any other poison. Every year it reaps a deadly toll among Alberta farm families. During Safe Driving Week, Dec. 1 to 7, it takes its place among safety hazards to be guarded against during the winter months.

Mr. W. J. Perkins, Farm Safety Director of the Alberta Safety Council, warns against this threat, almost odorless gas. Open the door before starting a motor in a garage or implement shed. Leave one of the car windows open an inch even in the coldest weather. If your car is in the exhaust is clear and keep the window partially open if the motor is running. It is most important at this time of year to check the exhaust system of your car and the heating facilities of your home.

Carbon monoxide can kill within minutes, depending on the concentration breathed into the lungs. Symptoms of poisoning are: lightheadedness, dizziness, headache, weakness, dizziness, nausea, loss of muscular control and increased pulse and respiration. Anyone feeling any of these symptoms should get into the fresh air at once. A supposed victim should be taken to the hospital immediately.

Yellowhead Route Pictures Shown

Pictures of the motor caravan that made its trip over the proposed Yellowhead Route as a secondary Trans-Canada highway were shown at Holden last Wednesday evening sponsored by the Holden Board of Trade. The caravan started at Saskatoon and was joined by motorists from most towns from that city to Edmonton along Highway 14. The object of the caravan was to boost Highway 14 as the logical route from Saskatoon to Edmonton as a Trans-Canada highway. Mr. Ross Haynes of Edmonton, who had much to do with the organization of the caravan, showed pictures taken on the trip through the Yellowhead Pass and at each stop was received enthusiastically. Mr. Haynes maintained that it is the most scenic route and would cost millions of dollars less than the southern route through Banff and the Crown's Nest Pass, which presents many difficult engineering problems.

Delegates were present from Edmonton, Calgary, Wainwright, Irma, Viking, Tofield and Holden at the showing of the pictures and a motion was made to organize a Highway 14 Trans-Canada Association at a later date.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON — Industrial taxation shaped up as one of the hottest topics for discussion among Social Credit members of the Legislature attending their annual fall caucus in the capital city this week.

The week before, delegates attending the silver jubilee convention of the Social Credit League in Calgary gave the support the government wanted to Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke's plan to bring in a provincial industrial tax.

Now, presumably, it will be up to Mr. Hooke and his department to bring in a workable plan for study and discussion during the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

Briefly, what Mr. Hooke proposes to do is take industry off municipal tax rolls and substitute a provincial industrial tax. The revenue collected would be distributed among the municipalities.

Outlining his proposal to the convention, Mr. Hooke said industrial taxes, like natural resources, should belong to all the people of the province so they can share equally in the prosperity industry has brought during the past 10 years.

The proposal has been under study off and on for about the past five years, but Mr. Hooke says there are still problems to be ironed out: One of them is to find a suitable definition of "industry." Another is to come up with a distribution formula which will make everyone happy.

Don't be surprised if the plan Mr. Hooke finally submits is accompanied by a proposal to ease municipalities of some of their current responsibilities. For example, the government may be considering taking full responsibilities for arterial highways which pass through towns and cities.

No matter what plan is finally adopted, it will be a bone of contention. Some of the bigger municipalities are strongly opposed to losing their taxing authority. What it will probably boil down to is this: communities with industry to tax will oppose the plan, those without industry will endorse it.

If there was a theme for last week's Sacred convention, it was revival of the national party.

Premier Manning told the convention the time is ripe for Social Credit to present a five-year plan on a national level. He said Socialists must be prepared to fill a political vacuum being created by dissatisfaction with Conservative and Liberal Parties.

Support for this view came from an independent observer—Prof. John A. Irving of the University of Toronto, author of a recently-published book on the Social Credit movement in Alberta.

Prof. Irving, in Calgary to address the convention, said Social Credit could make big gains nationally during the next few years. But one of the prime requisites would be a national leader of great calibre, ideally Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta.

The professor may have hit the nail on the head. If it is to become a national force, Social Credit needs a strong leader. Premier Manning probably is the only man in the party with the stature to swing it. He hasn't discussed the prospect lately, but he's gone on record before as saying he isn't interested in the national leadership.

Incidentally, word has it that Social Credit is about to unveil a new propaganda medium designed to gain wider acceptance for the party. It will be a publication called "Focus." Few details are available as yet, but it is understood Focus will aim for more popular appeal than the Canadian Social Creditor, will stay away from Sacred philosophies and stress the party's accomplishments in Alberta.

The Liberals also held a convention in Calgary (just before the Sacred) and talked about rebuilding the party from its virtual annihilation in the general election last June.

Freshman leader Grant MacEwan told the party to start looking for a new leader. He said he'd lead the party for another year, then resign. There has been little or no speculation about a successor but one possibility

Dedicate New Wheat Pool Building

The Alberta Wheat Pool's head office building in Calgary, now nearing completion, was officially dedicated Monday of this week. The event was planned to enable Wheat Pool delegates attending their annual meeting to take part in the program. Ben S. Plummer, former president and a member of the Board of Directors from the inception of the Pool in 1923 until his retirement in 1957, unveiled the tablet dedicating the building to the pioneer farmers of this province. Senator Donald Cameron, of Banff and Edmonton, spoke to the more than 250 guests present.

The 8-storey building, located in downtown Calgary, is one of the city's most modern structures. The building is fully air-conditioned.

Initially, the Alberta Wheat Pool will occupy the top four floors.

G. L. Harrold, president of the organization, said: "The new structure is the type of building the Alberta Wheat Pool's growth and development warrants. With it, the organization's capacity to serve the farm people of Alberta will be strengthened."

"It is a building of which Wheat Pool members can be justifiably proud," he declared.

Between 1939 and 1958 the average cost of railway freight shipments in Canada increased from 0.91 cents to 1.50 cents per mile.

bility is Richard Hall, former M.L.A. for Athabasca who was elected president of the Alberta Liberal Association at the convention.

There was cheering and applause for Michael Macagnio of Lac La Biche—the lone Liberal who made it back into the Legislature last June 18. Mike entered politics with no pretense of grandeur, now has suddenly found himself one of the most important Liberals in the province. Good thing he was re-elected, too, because in addition to being a hard-working M.L.A. he's the best Italian chef around, as any member of the Legislature press gallery will attest.

IN SEARCH OF TALENT

Sir Ernest will travel across Canada with the show, seeking promising classical instrumentalists and singers. Contestants on each program will be evaluated by a panel of three judges listening to the program and returning their verdicts by closed-circuit telephone from Edmonton, Toronto and Montreal.

GRADE NINE TOUR

On Friday, November 20, we started a tour of Viking at the elevator. They showed us how to test grain for dampness and how they found the amount of dockage. We were shown how the grain was taken to the bins and also how it was put in the cars. In the annex we saw four bins of grain. An auger passed this grain in the annex. Another auger would take it out. A truck of grain coming in, being hoisted and dumped, concluded our visit to the elevator.

We began the tour of the Meat Market by examining the lockers. Back we came to the main workroom where they showed us how to cut up a carcass of a pig. They showed us the hams curing and how to make wieners. A ham was filled with brine. Then they took us to the cold storage room where the ready-to-sell meat was hanging. While we ate Dixie cups, we looked at the meats and freezers in the front.

We walked across the street to the egg station. They showed us the different grades of eggs. Eggs are graded by size and the colour of the yolk and by age (freshness).

We walked down and across the street to the News Office. The first thing we saw was a Linotype which resembled a complicated typewriter. The type was made from lead and put into columns. We saw the columns up for the Irma Times. We expect to see our names in the paper. Then we went to the Creamery. First they showed us the butterfat test for the cream. Secondly, they showed us the cream from Mrs. Miles coming in and being weighed. This was pasteurized in a vat with steam coils in the centre. We saw a churn. We saw the butter cutter and about 2,000 pounds of butter ready to be cut. Then we went to the milk cooler and saw the bottles of milk and cream to be delivered at seven a.m. We saw the homogenizer, the cooler, and the bottle washer. We bought treats for ourselves before we left.

From the Creamery we continued on to the Bake Shop where we saw how they make their doughnuts, bread, French pastry. We also saw what equipment they use to make these things. They very definitely stressed that everything must be kept clean.

We ended our interesting tour by taking in the show "Mrs. Mike" at the Brock Theatre. We would like to thank all those who took time from their work to show us through their shops, stores, etc. — A Kinsella Student.
